PRICE, FIVE CENTS

Father and Son

Will Star in Narberth Players' Show Next Week-End

It is not often the Narberth Players—or any other little theatre group—has the pleasure of featuring father and son in leading parts in a play. Next Friday and Saturday, April 29-30, the thirty-first production of the Players will be "Big Hearted Herbert"—with J. Bedford Wooley playing the role of Herbert, and J. Bedford Wooley, Jr. (age 9½), as his play-and-real son.

As the mother in the play, Blanche D. Hongler will appear to advantage in a part suited to her. Others in the cast include Katherine Shee, Richard Graham, Myrtle Hager, Philip Reger, Beatrice Carver, Benjamin F. Richer, George McAllister, Mary Muller, Mathew Callahan and Bessie McAllister. Eight of the cast of thirteen are new members this season. Special scenery has been built and painted by George Werner, Roger Burns and Charles J. Clarke. The production is under the direction of Fay Fetterolf.

4 Firemen Hurt

Battling Blaze in Vacant House on Rockayon Road, Merion

Mystery still surrounds the cause of the blaze which caused $4000 damage to a vacant house on Rockayon road, Merion, and in which four firemen were injured.

Hurt in fighting the flames last Thursday afternoon were James P. Tierney, 311 Conway avenue; William E. Bailey, Jr., 106 Forrest avenue, and Richard McDevitt, 107 Windsor avenue, all of the Narberth Fire Company, and Marple Euler, 130 Union avenue, Bala, of the Union Fire Association of Bala-Cynwyd.

Tierney suffered body bruises, Bailey received head and shoulder injuries and Euler cuts on the hand while McDevitt was overcome by smoke. All were treated at the Bryn Mawr Hospital.

Fire, which started in the garage, spread through the interior of the three-story stucco house.

Frank Pollack, Lower Merion Township Fire Marshal, is investigating the various reports that the blaze was caused by spontaneous combustion of rags left by painters, or that children playing in the house started the fire.

He commended the Narberth and Cynwyd companies for their work in saving the building from complete destruction.

His Life Story

Was Told the Bala-Cynwyd-Narberth Rotary Club

Tuesday by New Member Albert F. W. Vick, Jr., as is the custom. Born February 17, 1916, in Washington, D. C., the club's youngest member studied at Cynwyd School and Friends Central, and later at Franklin and Marshall. "His sports were football, wrestling and track—at which, he claims, he was consistently end man. Of Chi Phi, his college frat, his vivid recollection is "Hell Night," a sort of initiatory treasure hunt that was no pleasure.

He studied botany, and went into nursery work with his father and fellow Rotarian, with whom he plays a good game of ping pong at their home on Bentley avenue, Cynwyd.

The Vicks' 65 acres at Glen Moore have rockeries and 200 varieties of wildflowers, 30 of ferns. In the recent flower show their exhibits won $1100 in first prizes.

Permanent Courts

For basketball and paddle ball games are being built back of the tennis courts at the Narberth Playground under the supervision of George B. Suplee, superintendent of public works.

Mr. Suplee also reports that the baseball diamond's infield has been raised to prevent puddles from forming after rains.

The Narberth W. C. T. U.

will meet 2 P. M. Monday, at the home of Mrs. Walter A. Fox, 31 Narbrook Park. Mrs. A. E. Wohler will lead the Devotional. Speaker of the afternoon will be the Reverend Horace I. Fenton, assistant pastor of the Ardmore Presbyterian Church. All are cordially invited to attend.

Vacancy

On School Board Not Likely to be Filled Until Fall

It is unlikely that a new member to fill the vacancy on the Narberth School Board, caused by the resignation of Mrs. H. R. Rinehart, vice-president, will be named until fall.

The resignation of Mrs. Rinehart, announced at the board meeting Tuesday night, will not become effective until August 1, and the directors do not hold regular meetings during the summer.

Reason for the resignation, after one full six-year term and less than a year of a second term, is that the Rineharts have bought a home in Cynwyd and are leaving the borough. She is also a trustee of the Narberth Community Library and a member of the Narberth Recreation Board.

The tax rate and 1938-39 budget were approved. The rate remains at 18 mills property tax and $2 per capita tax.

Budget total is $114,899 of which the principal items are: General control $3441; instructional service, $76,168; auxiliary agencies, $5960; operation of school plants, $5930; maintenance of school plant, $1550; fixed charges, $1850; debt service, $16,600; capital outlay, $3500.

The summer school term was approved, contingent upon securing teachers to conduct it.

A softball team of the Narberth Methodist Church was granted the use of the school playgrounds on Tuesday and Thursday nights.

V. O. Krauskop was retained as consulting engineer to prepare new estimates for a lighting plan for the school buildings.

Supervisor

For Narberth Playground Season Will be A. B. Weatherall.

Narberth's Recreation Board at its April meeting selected its personnel for the conduct of the summer playground season at the Community Grounds.

A. B. Weatherall was chosen recreation supervisor and will be assisted by Isaac Knoll and Miss Elizabeth L. Dildine.

Both Messrs. Weatherall and Knoll are known to borough residents from school and previous playground activities. Miss Dildine is a graduate of Temple University and experienced in the supervision of handicraft and other recreational activities of children.

Careful consideration was given by the board to various recommendations and criticisms that were received during the past winter when a planning.

"Let's Plan"

To Help Shoppers and Shops in the Business Section"

—So says the Planning Commission, Narberth's new and lively body, which met Wednesday night at Elm Hall.

And so Secretary Ralph S. Dunne is authorized to conduct a survey of parking conditions on Haverford avenue and the business parts of Narberth, Forest and Essex avenues.

President B. G. Simpson and members J. J. Cabrey, Walter O'Sullivan and William H. Durbin join with Mr. Dunne in inviting letters from residents who drive through and park in the business section and near the railroad station. "Are you satisfied or dissatisfied with conditions? ... What reasonable suggestions can you make for improving them? ..."

Letters may be sent Mr. Dunne or care of this paper.

The Rod and Gun

Club Elected Officers Wednesday Night and Gave Medals

Charles H. A. Cham, Wynndale road, is president. Vice-presidents are Clarence R. Kaebler, Joseph P. White and Robert W. Weber. Secretary, Albert J. Cliff. Treasurer, George A. Puring. The directors elected are Raymond Cham, Howell Dietrich and Dr. Curtis L. Whitticar. Field Captain J. Wallace Goodwin.

Medals for 50-foot indoor range 22-calibre rifle marksmen went to Champion Skeets Anderson, second prize Charles L. Jenkins, and third place Lawrence Dubois.

Prizes were on display for those who will catch the largest fish this season.

Speaker was A. B. Leckie, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation's Philadelphia office, who told of G-Men's work. He said crime is on the increase; one of 25 Americans has a criminal record; most offenders are in their teens; defective home training is the usual cause; a great need is met by organizations as the Rod and Gun, providing healthful sports and recreation.

Spring outing of the club will be on the Ridgway Farm, May 21. The club will trapshoot against Broomall, on the Nash farm, in Penn Valley, this Sunday afternoon.

With Daylight Saving

Going into effect Sunday, there are changes in the train schedules. Stationmaster A. B. Burgstesser points out that the trains, Narberth to Philadelphia, that now leave at 6:34 P. M. will leave at 6:21 P. M., Daylight Time; and the 6:59 P. M. is changed to 6:47, Daylight.

Unemployed Women, Girls

Household help may be wanted soon in many homes in this section. Answer, now, ad that appears elsewhere in this paper.

Mrs. Huber

Again Heads the Council of Republican Women

Mrs. John Y. Huber, Jr., of Haverford, was re-elected president of the Lower Merion-Narberth Council of Republican Women at the annual meeting held Tuesday at Whitehall, Haverford.

Other officers elected for a two-year term are Mrs. H. Tathall Brown, honorary president; Mrs. Carl H. Zipf, Mrs. E. H. Cockrill, Mrs. Helen Greenwood and Miss Margaret Benade, vice-presidents; Mrs. J. F. Scull, recording secretary; Mrs. Edgar Felton, Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. Morris M. Green, treasurer.

The report of the Nominating Committee was read by Mrs. William A. Edsall, chairman, whose committee members included Mrs. George C. Lewis, Mrs. Richard McGowan and Mrs. Walter B. Supplee.

"I am proud to again represent you," Mrs. Huber said. "This Council the largest in the county, is recognized as outstanding. Many constructive ideas adopted by the State Council have come from this group."

The annual report of the secretary was read by Mrs. J. F. Scull.

The business meeting was followed by talks on the coming Primary and the necessity for getting out a large Republican vote.

Julius Ziegert, president of the Lower Merion Township Commissioners, stressed the fundamental needs for good government. "We must have government of laws and not of men," he said. "Before a tax should be levied, it should be obvious that the money will be used for the better advantage of the community."

Around Our Town

Nice banquet the Narberth Fire Company had last night. More about it next week.

Monday came the mercifully-deferred deluge. Haverford avenue became Narberth River again. Mr. Walter Fox, of the Highway Committee, will you please give us either better drainage—or bridges? Seriously, portable foot-high bridges at street intersections of Haverford avenue wouldn't be a bad idea at all, when the water's running ankle deep. Charley Girvin is big enough to put

Police Methods

In Lower Merion will be discussed by the township's Superintendent of Police, Samuel W. Gearhart, in a talk before the Harold D. Speakman Post, American Legion, at the latter's monthly meeting Tuesday evening at 8:30 in the Community Building, Narberth.

Control of Heavy Truck

Traffic is the aim of a movement started by the Lower Merion Planning Commission.

A letter sent to fifteen business and civic organizations by Walter D. Fuller, commission chairman, has brought several favorable replies of groups who have promised to support further steps that may be taken to conserve the highways.

The Business Guide

Was Mailed This Week. Meeting is Next Monday

Narberth's Business Council will meet at the Arcadia Restaurant's Green Room, 8 P. M. Monday, to discuss several matters of importance. A lively meeting is promised.

The Business Guide was mailed this week. Best directory of its kind ever attempted in this area, it was prepared and financed by President Ralph S. Dunne as part of a membership campaign that since the first of January has brought the membership to over 150. Responsible in large part for the directory's typographical excellence is James B. Mackenzie, of Narbrook Park, a partner in the advertising firm of Fox and Mackenzie, whose other member, Walter A. Fox, is a Borough Councilman.

The booklet, with its Ultra-Bodoni type, its neat arrangement of information for residents old and new, and its interesting footnotes of Eastern Main Line interest, has been sent to all the homes between City Line and Ardmore. Any residents who through some error have not received a copy, may have it by phoning Mr. Dunne at Narberth 2430, or by asking for one at the Narberth Coal office.

Rutgers Prof.

Will Talk on Literature Before Juniors Next Thursday

At the next meeting of the Narberth Junior Women's Club, April 28, Professor William H. F. Lamont, of the English Department of Rutgers University, will lecture on novels and biographies.

He is well known both as a most interesting talker and for his knowledge of his subject.

Mrs. Ellsworth Clarke, the literature chairman, will have charge of the meeting and Mrs. F. C. Hutchinson will be hostess. Mrs. Harold Griest will play the piano. It is an "open meeting" to which the public is invited.

Yesterday the Literature Group held a "Pot-Luck" supper. Four of the members, Mrs. J. H. Jefferies, Jr., Mrs. Wayne Burnside, Mrs. W. S. Hunsicker and Miss Eleanor Rarick gave book reviews. Following the meeting the group went to the Narberth School to hear Dr. Edward Twitmyer, of Girard College, who spoke before the Parent-Teacher Association.

them up and take them down, and they'd be lots cheaper than a new drainage system.

In addition to taxicabs and cars legitimately parked there for quick use, the Narberth Station circle contains each day, all day, ten cars. They belong to proprietors and employees of shops whose customers would park a hundred or so cars in the same space the same day, while patronizing those same shops. Sergeant Girvin has the license numbers but it's railroad property. Perhaps a friendly word. ... South of the railroad there's room for 300 cars. ... Just a short walk for proprietors and employees—but all the difference, for some customers, between shopping at Narberth or driving on to some other business center.

Miss Jean Staples,

Of Woodside Avenue, Narberth, Was Elected President

Of the Junior Women's Community Club at the meeting last Thursday evening, for a two-year term.

Miss Staples, who has been a member of the club for three years, was second vice-president for two years and is chairman of the Finance Committee this year. She was also a member of the Program Committee in 1936, and has served as accompanist on musical programs of the club.

Miss Staples is a member of the Narberth Presbyterian Church and the Cynwyd Club. She is a teacher of music in the Merion School.

Other officers elected were Miss Mma Lyle, first vice-president; Mrs. George Albert, corresponding secretary, and Miss Kay Wheeler, director.

The speaker of the evening was Mrs. John D. Gill, chairman of International Relations for Montgomery County. Mrs. Gill believes that a European War is inevitable, but not imminent.

Mrs. James Tilbury, soprano, sang accompanied by Miss Margaret Squier.

Mrs. I. C. Satow was hostess.

Announcement was made of the Mothers' Day Banquet, May 10.

Installation of officers will take place at the club's closing banquet, May 27.

Yesterday Miss Jean Staples and Mrs. W. S. Hunsicker, who is the County Federation's vice-chairman of publicity, represented Narberth at the Federation meeting in Souderton.

Several Narberth Juniors will attend the Publicity Forum at Bala-Cynwyd next Thursday.

Slate Elected

By Women's Club, Who Hear of Dogwood's History

All candidates whose names appeared on the ticket were voted into office at the meeting of the Women's Community Club of Narberth Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. E. J. Pollock became second vice-president with a vote of 75. The name of Mrs. C. J. Goodyear was proposed from the floor. Mrs. H. C. Middleton became recording secretary and Mrs. Henry F. Dever treasurer by uncontested votes. Directors voted in were Mrs. E. S. Deubler, Mrs. C. L. Wells, and Mrs. William Durbin. The name of Mrs. V. R. Woodcock was proposed from the floor.

Amendment

To Lower Merion's Zoning Ordinance,

Giving the township's Commissioners the right to erect buildings "where necessary for the convenience and welfare of the public"—without regard to zoning restrictions—was passed by the board Wednesday night in Ardmore.

The action, taken after a recess, followed an expression of opposition to the amendment by about fifty township residents, mostly from Penn Valley and Bala-Cynwyd.

Aaron S. Swartz, Norristown attorney and counsel for Penn Valley residents opposing the placing of the incinerator on the present dump site in West Manayunk, gave as three-fold reasons: (1) Passing the amendment would provide the board with an arbitrary exercise of power; (2) There is no necessity for such action under the present zoning code because the Board of Adjustment can make necessary exceptions; (3) That the proposal would not have come up if it were not for the incinerator location question.

"You don't want to go before the Board of Adjustment where we could take an appeal to the Courts," he taunted.

Others speaking in opposition included John A. Lafore, who owns 124 acres in Penn Valley; Eugene Jordan, Woodbine avenue; E. B. Wilford, Merion, who said locating the incinerator on its proposed site "would kill the fastest growing section in the township;" Walter R. Faries, Cynwyd attorney, who said he represented

Sixty Students

On Junior High Honor Roll Include Many Narberth Pupils

On Wednesday morning the home rooms of Lower Merion Junior High School presented sixty students to the faculty for enrollment on the Forty-seventh Honor Roll which was observed for the third marking quarter of the current school year. Dr. Morris Wolf, head of the Social Science Department of Girard College and guest speaker, drew an interesting parallel between the modern trends in government and the rivalries among the cities of ancient Greece.

The honor students are: George Breslow, Nancy Frick, Betty Vadner, Thomas Yborra, Doris DeLaney, Florence Myers.

Constance Wetherald, Arthur Bushnell, Sara Moffett, James Small, Norman Briggs, Lois Coulbourn, Mary Dunlap, Kitty Miller.

Gordon Murphy, Mila Ashodian, Agnes Lindsay, George Hannum, Hope Tetlow, Doris Cohen, Alfred Jamison, Gladys Taylor, Marjory Havlick, Gaynor Wynne.

The Cheering Message of Easter Morning

Strange doctrines have been built upon a foundation of faith, and men have lived for them and died for them. Great deeds have been done for faith's sake and wise things spoken by its inspiration. Yet the faith which is "the substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen," alone cannot sustain the courageous and confident spirit. Man needs some certainties on which to build his faith. He must renew his faith at times, by means of new certainties.

Herein lies the enduring significance of the coming of Spring, known to all peoples and times without necessity of teaching or argument. By every appearance of enduring life. It is leafless, colorless, cheerless. Death is in its bitter cold, its stormy strife of wind, rain and snow. Many ancient legends of gods and heroes tell of its triumph over life and heat and happiness. There is the tale of Persephone, doomed to wander half the year in the dread dark of the underworld. There is the Norse legend of Baldur, bright son of Odin, slain by craft in the twilight of the gods.

I heard a voice that cried
"Baldur the bountiful
Is dead, is dead!"
And through the misty air
Passed like the mournful cry
Of sunward-sailing cranes.

There are plain parables of the most familiar phenomenon in human experience—the fading of Summer into the twilight of Autumn and the cold night of Winter, yet, since the world began, the perennial rebirth of Spring has proved them false. With every Easter season, no matter by which name it has been known, has come comforting assurance of life outlasting death, of beauty here again amid the cheerless devastation wrought by long Winter.

Therefore, the hearts of men were ready and eager to believe in the miracle of Easter Morning, nearly twenty centuries ago, when one in white raiment told the women at the sepulcher, "He is not here, for He is risen as He said. And go quickly and tell His disciples that He is risen from the dead." The certainty and reassurance of that moment became the foundation stone of Christian faith and doctrine. The story of simple folk who came "as it began to be dawn," hoping and believing, yet troubled by doubt and grief, is the gospel of Good Friday and of its fulfillment in the mystery and glory of the resurrection. There is the testimony of witnesses who saw and heard. That, in truth, is the teaching of all the gospels, which are not written in the spirit of prophecy, but as a record of human experience. Centuries of doubt and dissension have not shaken their testimony, but strengthened it by the simple faith and dedicated lives of untold millions who have believed that a Saviour was born into the world and lived and talked with men. "Go quickly and tell His disciples," said the angel at the tomb. Today their tale is told again in a world far distant and different from their own, yet in words that the wise and simple in heart equally may understand.

So a single certainty, revealed first to "Mary Magdalene and the other Mary" has kept faith alive through the temptations of twenty centuries. And the seasons in their faithful cycle recall and repeat its teaching. Death does not endure forever—dawn follows darkness, prophecy is fulfilled and hope is rewarded. The seed and root and stem are not dead, but sleeping, awaiting the resurrection of Spring. Every flower of Easter, standing before church altar or brightening the home, is symbol and proof of resurrection.

Every race's experience, beginning far earlier than all recorded history, approves the lesson of Easter Morning. And in these days of doubt and dangerous change, when men may lose easily their faith and hope and charity, when they may too readily distrust their own courage and find no light or leadership among their fellows, it is time to take to heart the message of Easter Morning.

There will come a new dawn and better day in the affairs of men, as surely as Spring follows the long weariness of Winter. There will be new beginnings arising from the wreckage of past failure and disappointment. There will be a bright tomorrow in the fullness of time. To this the cycle of the seasons has borne witness since man first lived upon the earth. This the women knew for a certainty when they went early to the sepulcher on Easter Morning to find the great stone rolled away and "did run with fear and great joy to bring His disciples word."

Little Foxes

Last week I watched four men unloading a freight car in Ardmore. They were carrying bricks from the car to a truck backed up to the siding. Each man had a kind of iron clamp that held six bricks. Back and forth they came from car to truck, each with his load of bricks.

What really attracted me was the fact that one of the four men carried also a single brick in his other hand! With each journey he was doing just that little bit more than the others.

In one of his essays Tolstoy tells of Brulof, the Russian painter, correcting a pupil's study. The pupil said, "Why, you only touched it a tiny bit, but it is quite a different thing!" Brulof replied, "Art begins where the tiny bit begins."

Tolstoy goes on to say, "That saying is strikingly true not of art alone, but of all life. One may say that true life begins where the tiny bit begins—where what seems to us minute and infinitely small alterations take place. True life is not lived where great external changes take place, where people move about, clash, fight and slay one another; but it is lived only where these tiny, infinitesimally small changes occur."

How very, very true! Businesses are built by the man who carries an extra brick. Friendships are made and marred by the little things. Marriages end in the divorce court or drag out to a living death, not so much on large issues as through tiny differences of habit, language, breeding and thought.

Oh, "the little foxes that spoil the vines!"

Billed as the downright uproarious, far glorious new musical that's positively tops in screen entertainment, "Sally, Irene and Mary" features again toe-tickling new hit tunes by a quartet of Hollywood's best scale-writers.

"Half Moon on the Hudson," "I Could Use a Dream," "This Is Where I Came In," "Who Stole the Jam?" were written by Walter Bullock and Harold Spina.

Mack Gordon and Harry Revel wrote "Got My Mind on Music" and "Sweet as a Song" for the film.

Raymond Scott's "Minuet in Jazz" also is featured.

Alice Faye, Tony Martin and Fred Allen top the cast. Jimmy Durante, Gregory Ratoff, Joan Davis, Marjorie Weaver and Louise Hovick are featured. Opening Tuesday at the Suburban Theatre.

"High Tor" Will be Given May 3 and 4 by The Penna. Players

For their spring offering, The Pennsylvania Players are presenting Maxwell Anderson's "High Tor" on May 3 and 4 at the Playroom of The Plays and Players, Philadelphia.

The cast chosen by Miss Kathleen C. Quinn, the directress of dramatics, includes the finest talent on the campus. The leading roles are taken by such experienced players as G. Elliott Hess and Robert L. Kunzig, who have acted in the Mask and Wig productions for several years, and by Patricia and Renee Murray, who are well known to audiences at Hedgerow Theatre.

FREE WHEELING

The traffic light flashed green and a young mother started across the busy intersection. With one hand she wheeled a baby carriage filled with groceries and, with the other, she guided her little son.

As she crossed the car tracks, a front wheel of the carriage caught in a trolley switch. Growing excited, she jerked and twisted the carriage with all her strength. Off came the wheel—just as the light again changed and mid-day traffic, headed by a telephone company truck, moved forward! Completely confused, the young woman reached for her child, tripped over the carriage and fell.

The telephone truck stopped and its crew jumped to the ground. While one man grabbed the frightened child and guided the nervous mother to safety, another picked up the wheel and coach and carried them to the sidewalk. Then he turned and shouted, "Hey, Fred, bring the truck over here."

The truck was backed to the curb. Wire and tools were produced. Then, relates a witness, the crowd which had gathered watched a telephone crew repair the broken carriage.

Although fixing baby carriages has nothing to do with good telephone service, this incident well demonstrates the spirit of service which is characteristic of this entire organization. The Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania.

"RIGHT OVER THE PLATE!"

Yes, spring is here! Big-league baseball starts this week. And on the neighborhood lot near your home, happy youngsters are tossing the ball "right over the plate."

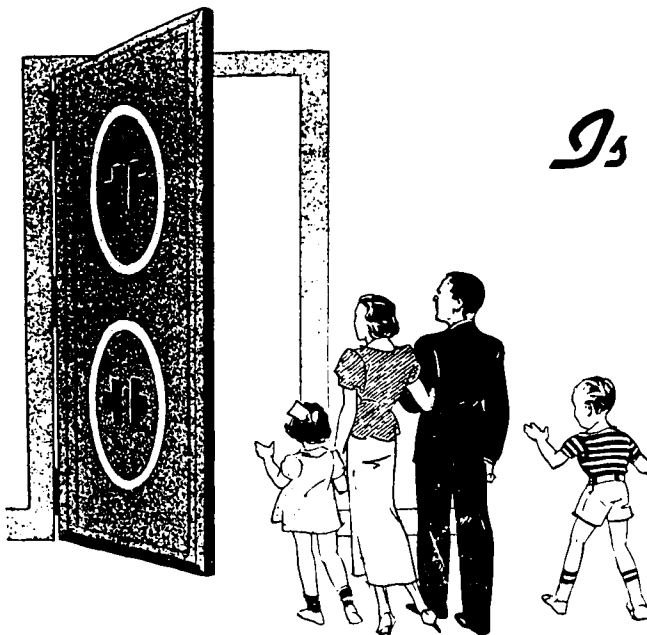

Plenty of milk gives your children the pep to make good in their sand-lot league. Milk also helps build strong muscles and sound bones. In fact, milk is a grand food for all folks—whatever their age. The creamy flavor of Supplee Sealtest Premier A Milk puts it "right over the plate" at the table. As a member company of the SEALTEST SYSTEM OF LABORATORY PROTECTION, Supplee shares in the discoveries of more than 100 dairy laboratories.

Put Supplee Sealtest Premier A Milk "up to bat" in your home. Telephone Bryn Mawr 881 for courteous, dependable Supplee service.

Is Your House Adequately Wired?

One of the most important features of your house is out of sight... behind walls. It's the wiring system. It's the means by which you can lead a more convenient, comfortable home-life... the ability to use all your electrical servants.

Make sure the wiring in your home is adequate to deliver an ample supply of electric energy for present needs... and to serve future additions to your electrical "staff of servants." Next, investigate your convenience outlets. Have enough to accommodate all your needs. Consult with your neighborhood electrical dealer... or call your nearest Philadelphia Electric Company office.

L. M. School Board Budget for 1938-39

Tax Rate Set at 11 Mills: No
Per Capita Tax
Voted

was re-elected for a four-year term as Superintendent of Lower Merion Township Schools, by the Board of Education last week. Frank A. Dubois was re-elected assistant; both appointments are effective July 1.

The Board also decided that the Wynnewood road and Merion schools, closed recently until scarlet fever subsided, will complete the minimum requirement of 180 days this term—which means they will remain open a week or so after the other township schools and their term.

In planning the fiscal program for the 1938-39 school year the Lower Merion School Board prepared a proposed budget of $1,238,300 and held the tax rate at 11 mills at a meeting held Wednesday night.

Of the total receipts and expenditures in the budget, $1,133,300 represents the general fund and $85,000 represents the estimated balance by July 1, 1938, in the recently authorized bond issue.

This will be the fourth consecutive year that the school directors have held their tax rate at 11 mills despite heavy expenditures for the purchase and development of new school plots as well as an extensive building program.

Directors also voted a "no per capita tax" for the sixth consecutive year. In 1915 the millage tax was 15 mills with a $1 per capita tax.

The budget as approved will be available for inspection in the office of the school district for a period of 20 days after April 19. Final action will be taken on the budget at the May 16 meeting of the Board.

The assessed valuation of property taxable for schools for 1938-39 is $87,300,000 as compared to $85,195,086 last year.

Estimated receipts from property tax of 1938 is $910,300 as compared to estimated receipts in last year's budget of $883,199.90. The delinquent tax income will be reduced $10,000. State appropriations are expected to yield $6,576.26 more than last year.

E. E. Burlingame, president, presided at the meeting held in the Administration Building.

Shut-In Society Asks Donations of Discarded Things

While spring cleaning and going through the attic at this time of year, one often comes across articles which have been discarded by the family.

The Shut-In Society of Philadelphia may have need of these very things and we are at present asking their friends for old radios, sewing machines and games, such as parchesi, bagatelle and ping-pong. There is also a request for piano rolls suitable for use on a Francesca player piano.

To those who are shut away from the world these things which you may no longer be using bring untold pleasure.

If you are thinking of buying a new radio or sewing machine, won't you let the Shut-Ins have your old one? Please telephone Rittenhouse 9520 if you have any article which the Shut-In Society may call for.

in this country," said Adolf Muller in his story of the dogwood. Mr. Adolf said the first pink dogwood tree was noticed by Thomas Meighan in 1887 below Green Valley Inn on the Wissahickon. It was a "sport" or oddity that occurs in cycles of 200 years. But Mr. Meighan pinched off the buds so it would return the same the next year. Then he grafted twigs of this tree on tiny normal dogwood trees, and started the production of pink dogwood.

Mrs. Henry D. Booth, Jr., chairman of the Main Line Girl Scouts, explained how the Girl Scout program has been revised to fit the needs of the modern girl. Mrs. Susanne Joret Gill, who has attended three meetings of small business men in Washington, asked that the club members read accounts of business enterprise in the papers and become intelligent on the subject.

Mrs. C. A. Farmer, public welfare chairman, announced that the Child Health Center is to have a new home on the second floor of the borough building at Conway and Haverford avenues, and that donations of furniture, rugs, etc., will be gladly accepted.

Mrs. Joseph Gurbarg said that her group on Literature and International Relations will have the last meeting of the club year this Monday at the McCall Field Club, on City Line avenue, at 130. Hostesses will be Mrs. J. S. Erickson and Mrs. G. M. Shuster. Assisting will be Mrs. A. J. Sigel, Mrs. H. J. Mosteller and Mrs. H. F. Stevens. Mrs. Erickson will review "Action at Aquila" by Hervey Allen. Amy Paul Thomas will read from her book of poems, "Not Always Lyric." Mrs. W. R. Giles will sing a group of songs, accompanied by Mrs. A. B. Wheeler.

Mrs. R. C. Heath, hospitality chairman, said that the last meeting of the year will be a luncheon in the community building at one o'clock Tuesday, May 10. Reservations are to be in to Mrs. J. E. Burrell by May 8. The club chorus will sing, convention reports will be given, and officers will be installed. Mrs. A. B. Ross, past president will dedicate the planting of the tree in memoriam to club members who have passed away.

The Board of Directors will meet this Tuesday A. M. at 10:30 at the home of the president, Mrs. E. W. Heymann.

ented a group not opposed to the incinerator per se, but opposed to the principle of the amendment which would permit the board to be plaintiff, judge and jury.

Julius Ziegert, president of the board, said the incinerator site had been chosen after five years of study and that the amendment was proposed to cover a technicality and really is not needed, in order to give the township the right to erect, where most convenient, any necessary buildings.

James M. Brittain, township solicitor, in discussing the charge of "dictatorship," held that the Board of Adjustment could not rule in any question where a building would change the character of a zoning district, and that passage of the amendment would still leave the way open for public hearings on any proposed township project with subsequent appeal to the Courts.

The Political Pot

Ross Longaker, with offices in the Curran Arcade, Norristown, is Montgomery County chairman for veterans supporting Charles Jones Mundy-Lugue. The announcement was made this week by Charles L. Engard, former State Commander of the American Legion, who is chairman of the Democrats' Veterans' Campaign Committee.

The withdrawal of Joseph H. Cochran from the State Senate race and Dr. Frank P. K. Barker as candidate for the State Committee, paved the way last week for party harmony in the Republican ranks.

Dr. Barker, who is vice-president of the Lower Merion Board of Commissioners and a resident of Gladwyne, was opposing Fred C. Peters, of Ardmore, who is president of the Montgomery County Board of Commissioners. Barker's withdrawal leaves the field clear for Peters.

In supporting Peters and the Republican ticket, Dr. Barker will doubtless throw his strength to Franklin Spencer Edmonds for the Senatorial post.

His statement to the press follows: "In the 58 years that my father, Thomas H. Barker, and his brother, William A. L. Barker (Lower Merion Commissioner for 23 years), and myself have served the Republican Party, we have never deviated from the straight party lines and my purpose for coming out for the State Committee to support the Judge Arthur H. James' ticket has been served by Mr. Peters making an announcement for James. Therefore to bring harmony in the ranks of the Republican Organization, I am withdrawing my candidacy and throwing my support to my friend, the Hon. Fred C. Peters, and the Republican ticket."

For U. S. Senator

EDWARD L. STOKES

A committee composed of representative Philadelphia Republican and civic leaders, formally opened the campaign to nominate Honorable Edward Lowber Stokes as an independent candidate to the U. S. Senate, from Pennsylvania yesterday.

Dr. S. Howard Patterson, prominent Philadelphia educator, was announced as chairman of the General Campaign Committee, and State Headquarters were opened at 1708 Locust street, Philadelphia.

An intensive program that will carry the Stokes campaign into virtually every county in the State will be well under way before the end of the week, the chairman said.

Funeral Note

George Painter, Jr., opined at Rotary Club Tuesday that undertakers and casket makers are crying the blues. Business is down—because deaths in the Philadelphia and suburban area are running 35 per cent less than usual.

Trout season began the first; continues through July; 25,000 in Montgomery County streams; 'steen thousand fishermen after them (must have a license, though); legal minimum size is six inches, daily limit is ten fish; favorite spots here are the Mill Creek and Valley Forge Park's Valley Creek, both well-stocked.

Quite a lot of fuss in the daily press about Arthur W. Burns' 110-volt fence and no wonder. The Pennsylvania Animal Protective League got after the man, saying it is cruel to shock animals with electricity. Woodside avenue neighbors with dogs and children recall other instances when the law was invoked against 108 Woodside. . . . But Mr. Burns, airing his views on dog psychology and human rights, mentions the "therapeutic application of electrical energy to the human body," and minimized his fence's shocking attributes.

Less smoke for the Main Line, now that P. R. R. has electrified its freight service. One luckless engineer on the first day's run earned two weeks vacation without pay for pushing his freight toter as if it were a fast passenger puller. . . . Burned out a coil. . . . costing the railroad a cool thousand dollars. . . . Incidentally, the road's traffic department tells us the round-trip fare, Philadelphia to New York, air conditioned, is only $3.60 ($6.40 Pullman).

During the holidays. . .

The young misses bus riding with their dogs. Can't be done, as "Wags" found out. . . . The lass in lovely green shorts, bike-pedaling.

What a world of pathos and good humor at Davis' just before Easter. . . . giving orders for names to go in the eggs.

And so to the flower shop. . . . and what a lot of "Sh-h-h" the florist knows.

What a grand feeling to walk along the town's main street at 2 P. M. Good Friday and see store after store closing, in deference to a religious sentiment.

And were the churches crowded on Sunday!

Rev. H. C. Van Haagen

Services and interment for the late Rev. Henry C. Van Haagen retired Congregational minister, were held Tuesday afternoon in Perry Center, N. Y.

The Rev. Mr. Van Haagen, who was 66 died Sunday at the home of his brother, Herbert J. Van Haagen, of 621 Old Gulph road, Penn. Valley.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Dorothy Setgas Van Haagen, a daughter, Mrs. Royden Richardson, of Victor, N. Y., and three sisters, the Misses Martha, Gertrude and Erma Van Haagen, of Wisconsin.

Musical

For Choral Members and Friends Sponsored by Men's Association of Overbrook Church

Subscribing members of the Bala-Cynwyd Choral Association are invited to a musical to be given Friday, April 29, at the home of Mrs. Dorothy Johnstone Baseler, Church road, Ardmore.

The program will include Mrs. Baseler and her daughter, Dorothy Virginia Baseler, harpists; Mrs. Helen Brodersen, reader; Miss Ruth Brall, contralto; Mrs. Gladys Austin, pianist; and Harry Rudy, bass.

The choral's spring production, "The Yeomen of the Guard" will be given May 6 and 7 with an outstanding cast. Miss Ruth Brall, a student of the Zechner-Hahn Conservatory, sings the role of "Dame Carruthers." Her rich contralto voice lends itself well to this difficult part.

Two fine male voices being heard for the first time with the choral are those of Charles Conner and Wilson Donahue. Mr. Conner who plays the role of Sir Richard Cholmondeley has had several years of radio and concert work as well as light opera.

Mr. Donahue, playing the part of "Leonard Merry," son of the "Serjeant," has also done concert and radio work.

survey was completed. A general grouping of these follows:

1. Requests for additions to playground and equipment—50%.
2. Criticism of supervision in previous years—24%.
3. Complaints concerning health or safety—12%.
4. Miscellaneous—2%.
5. Commendation—12%.

The 1938 playground season is scheduled to open Monday, June 27, and close Saturday, August 20. Complete details of the summer program are not yet available, but there will be several new activities of interest to groups of various ages.

The Recreation Board is composed of Dr. LeRoy A. King, president; Clarence R. Kaebler, secretary; Councilman Henry P. Carr, Mrs. H. R. Rinehart and Frank J. Dwyer.

A Tribute . .

I've built a tribute o'er this place,
Where dwell the names that are my race.
In endless honor, timeless grace,
I have remembered them.

I've crowned this quiet place with art,
To set their hallowed sleep apart,
With love . . . to live beyond my heart,
I have remembered them.

I've marked this place that they be known;
That silence need not watch alone,
With mem'ries shrined in votive stone,
I have remembered them.

Garden Frolic

Several local residents are taking prominent parts in the forthcoming show "The Overbrook Garden Frolic," to be given Tuesday evening, May 10, in the Overbrook Presbyterian Church House.

Margaret F. Tuft, of Baird road, Merion, will sing a solo and also take part in several specialty numbers. Jean Byall, of Penn Valley, is in the specialty, "Skeletons." Others in the cast are Virginia Stoll, of Green Hill Farms; Mr. and Mrs. James Winchell, Wynnewood; Betty McCall, Merion, in a solo number; June Roberts, Overbrook; Eleanor Hershey, Bala-Cynwyd; Lindley Scarlett, Overbrook.

Summer already! . . . Baseball games on the radio again, and ice cream trucks beguiling children's appetites and parents' nickels.

The borough highway department is washing the streets to lay the dust at the Narberth Apartments, Inc., building operation at Narberth and Price avenues, each Wednesday afternoon and Saturday morning.
